

Filby is full in bloom for its Anglia in Bloom judging.

Picture: ANTHONY KELLY

Village pulls out all the stops for contest judges

Welcome to Filby - the village that prides itself on being the best for floral displays.

As these pictures show the village near Great Yarmouth has been taken over by a colourful array of plants and flowers for its annual in bloom campaign.

From a village sign surrounded by blooming plants in the main

ANTHONY CARROLL
anthony.carroll@east.norfolk.gov.uk square adorned with hanging baskets, the village's population pulls out all the stops to impress Anglia in Bloom and Britain in Bloom judges. As motorists and their passengers drive through the village on the A1064 they can not fail to be impressed with the many displays, such as a cart spilling an small army of flowers, that residents have created.

And last Thursday Anglia in Bloom judges were said to be impressed by the displays as they toured the village.

Next up is a visit by Britain in Bloom judges on August 1.

From left, Stuart and Gwens Thurtle from Filby in Bloom with Anglia in Bloom judges David White and Nolan Mills.

